WM. DUCROW, Equestrian Director.

The season's haul of full-fledged fools has been made on the shores of all the nations, and were only secured after the most strenuous efforts by the most experienced men. There may be a few, escaping the meshes of the net, that eluded capture, but they were of such insignificant size as to come within the game laws, while those spread before the eyes of visitors are guaranteed to be of lawful dimensions and surcharged with the Roe of Fun. Among them are rare specimens from civilized countries, as well as hybrids from unexplored regions together with an assortment of ambidextrous ticklers, all of whom collectively and individually have pledged assurance they can make an Indian laugh—for a satisfactory consideration. You may judge for yourself. Here they are:

THE ARMISTICE.

In far-off Manchuria, the hosts of Russia and Japan, after one of the most Titanic and sanguinary struggles in all history, rest upon their arms, waiting the outcome of the momentous Peace Congress at Portsmouth. An armistice has been declared, but the God of War and the Goddess of Peace still struggle for the mastery. Enmity and friendship still hang in the balance. With bated breath the World waits for the verdict—Peace or War. It is then that the Nations gather, in response to the invitation of Columbia, to bring together the hesitating belligerents, and cement a lasting peace between the giants of the East.

PAGEANT OF THE NATIONS.

Representatives of nearly all the nations on earth pass in review on their way to the peace congress, (1) France first comes in view with Joan d'Arc escorted by dragoons, followed (2) by Germany with a corps of Hessian infantry, (3) Austria with a detachment of famous Hungarian Hussars, (4) Italy with a company of Bersaglieri, (5) Russia with a troupe of Cossacks, preceeding an allegorical float and followed by infantry, (6) Spain and Mexico, represented by people in national costumes, (7) Africa by Moroccan Chiefs mounted on Camels, (8) China by a Princess supported by nobles with an accompaniment of Mandarins, while closely behind follows (9) the gorgeous Japanese float suggesting the domestic life of the nation. (10) Great Britain now looms in view with the representatives of her European and Asiatic possessions, followed (11) by the United States with a superb float, with living groupes typifying the North, South, East and West, accompanied by representatives of several branches of the military service. (12) The huge float of Peace concludes this splendid pageant, taking up the central position, flanked by the nations.

The Goddess of Peace beckons to the representatives of the warring countries to approach, but both show a disinclination to do so. France graciously endeavors to persuade her ally Russia to respond to the invitation of Peace, while Great Britain seeks to do likewise with Japan. Both Russia and Japan remain obdurate. At this critical moment Columbia descends from her position, ranging herself beside Peace, when the latter, emboldened, assumes the role of Peacemaker and adds her entreaties to the invitation of Peace. Unable to withstand the united pleadings of Columbia and Peace, Russia and Japan approach, clasp hands and embrace amidst the acclamations of the assembled nations.—At this moment the portrait of President Roosevelt is unfolded and the Angels of Peace sound their trumpets proclaiming to the world that the great deed has been accomplished and that Peace reigns throughout the world.

The procession of nations now majestically takes its departure with the float of Peace in the van immediately followed by Columbia with Russia and Japan on either side indicating her friendship for both.

PORCELAIN TO REPLACE GOLD

It is only a matter of time necessary to learn to work porcelain, the same as with the case with gold. When porcelain will take the place of gold in dentistry the same as gold displaced cement and amalgam. As a filling material, in the hands of an expert, it not only cannot be detected but is more permanent and protects the tooth from recurrence of decay better than any other known filling material. Dr. Stewart, of 133 East 34th St. has made a specialty of this material for several years, and brought it to a point of perfection. The majority of progressive dentists are now beginning to recommend it instead of gold. With porcelain the doctor is not only able to do perfectly undetectable permanent fillings (It is the only permanent filling for soft or chalky teeth), but re-enamel small undersize, malformed, acid-eaten or much filled or decayed teeth without destroying the nerve, restoring them to proper contour size and shade. His all-porcelain bridge-work does away with odious gold crowns and cusps, which invariably proclaim the falseness of this class of work, while his porcelain continuous gum-plates together with an exceptional ability in restoration of contour and expressions are the pinnacle of dental perfection and deceives even the dentist and his mirror.

DISPLAY NO. 19—WHEREIN A SECOND TIME, CHEATED OF HIS PREY THE KING OF TERRORS
FINALLY FLEES.

THE LIMIT. LE TOURBILLON DE LA MORT. First presentation in America of the latest and most ingenious French mechanical device for robbing the Fates of their deserts ever conceived in the brain of man. An awful, awe-inspiring, appulsive, aerial somersaulting automobile act, in which Mlle. Octavia LaToura daring and heroic young French lady rides to safety after positively the most fearless and rash reckless exploit ever successfully performed. A turning, twisting, twirling, tilting transposition in mid-air in an automobile. The thrilling, tumbling, tremendous, tantalizing triumph of all Time. A marvelous flight hitherto considered among the impossibilities, but now courageously essayed, and successfully performed by a young and pretty girl. A staggering, stunning, startling, stupendous, surprising sensation, outwining every feat on record. The machine with its charming chauffeuse describing a huge parabola of fifty feet, and when at its greatest height making a complete revolution, becoming inverted, righting itself in space, and safely alighting on a platform, presenting the absolute limit of human daring.
